The District Court wishes to thank the Bicentennial Committee and the following people who helped to create this updated history. Margaret H. Chutich assisted Judge Diana Murphy in editing the final drafts and chaired a committee of former federal court law clerks who wrote portions of the history—Martin D. Munic, Susan M. Thomas, John J. Scanlon, III, George A. Koeck, and Denise Reilly. Celia McGuinness, a student intern, and Professor Joan R. Gunderson worked on a first draft of the history. Duane W. Krohnke gathered information and opinions about significant constitutional cases decided in this court. The Honorable J. Earl Cudd and the Honorable Robert J. Kressel researched and wrote portions of the history about the duties of the magistrates and the bankruptcy judges. Francis E. Dosal, the Clerk of Court, researched and wrote the history of his office and provided technical support. Thanks also go to Robert J. Sheran for his help in organization and support and to West Publishing Company which printed the history.

Other reference materials exist on the court. A most valuable resource is the earlier History of the United States District Court of Minnesota which was published in 1976 under the leadership of then Chief Judge Edward J. Devitt. Biographies of several of the early judges are featured in Volumes 1 and 2 of the History of the Bench and Bar of Minnesota (ed. H. Stevens 1904). Videotape interviews with each of the living judges are available in the office of the Clerk of Court. On these cassettes, the judges discuss the work of the court, their lives, and their thoughts on the justice system. A one hour video production is also available entitled "Portraits of Justice"; it draws on highlights of the interviews and other materials to tell the story of the court and its judges.
